

ABOUT RIEDEL

Riedel, the 264 year-old global leader in varietal-specific crystal glassware, is the first in history to recognize how the taste of wine is affected by the shape of the glass from which it is consumed. Riedel has been lauded as the unrivaled „wine friendly“ glassware brand to complement specific wines and spirits.

Famous for the ground-breaking introduction of the world's first „wine friendly“ glass, the Burgundy Grand Cru in 1958, and the mouth-blown Sommeliers Series unveiled in 1973, Riedel has become the brand of choice for wine connoisseurs, hospitality professionals, and educated consumers worldwide. Recognized for transforming the wine culture over the past 50 years, Riedel's design-focused decanters, various stemware lines, and stemless „O“ collections have been selected for display at the Museum of Modern Art, Corning Museum of Glass, San Francisco MoMA and more.

Riedel is distributed widely throughout Europe, the Americas and Asia, and can be found at the most exclusive fine dining establishments throughout the world. For more information, please visit www.riedel.com.
